

Flow is a mobile-first and private communication platform that is built for getting work done. It allows Telekom Malaysia staff to communicate and collaborate from any device, any time.

Flow combines chats, workspaces, broadcasting, voice and video calling, company directory and so much more to help people work faster and be more productive and efficient.

Flow's holistic security solution addresses all aspects of enterprise security. Flow allows Telekom Malaysia employees to encrypt and store their data securely without any usability tradeoffs. Flow's holistic approach ensures complete security from both a technology and process perspective.

With Flow, Telekom Malaysia can now restrict employees from sharing company data on consumer tools such as WhatsApp and can provide a next-generation mobile-first platform for their staff.

$800,000

Telekom Malaysia's monthly* productivity savings since deploying Flow.

40%

of Telekom Malaysia staff are now highly active on Flow 2 months since launch.

15,000

chat rooms have been created improving the flow of communication within the organization.

181

company-wide broadcasts from management have been sent reaching every member of the organization.

* productivity savings take into account employee time previously spent on Whatsapp during business hours